CITY OF WASHINGTON. FRIDAY NIGHT, AUGUST 29, 1845.

A letter has been received in Washington, of the resmahip Alabama was to depart on on the remarks and statements which its, which occupy a large por-"Intelligencer" makes this bold as n the "Union" expressly stated, "upon ne,' as to the alleged designs of Treasury Department, are just the reverse of th one part of the matter," or rather misrepre

THE ANTI-RENTERS.

Silas Wright, esq., the governor of New York roclamation concerning the rioters in says the Argus,) and combinations to resist and deon of process, are set forth with great clearness and force—so much so, as to leave no reasonable doubt as to the justice and expediency of the course of the executive; indeed, to leave him no law have been perpetrated—to the proprietors or landlords of these lensehold estates—and, finally, to hte disguised men themselves—come with equal truth and force; and cannot fail, we think, to sink deeply into the minds of all to whom they are addressed. We cannot but hope that they will be felt. dressed. We cannot but hope that they will be felt, and will produce results that will arrest these disorders, and bring back the region of insurrection to a condition of peace and order, and a full compliance with the laws of the Commonwealth. We do not doubt that vigorous acts will follow this proclamation. Adjutant-General Farrington proceeded yes-terday afternoon in the steamboat, via Catakill, to Delhi, and will see personally that its requirements tenday afternoon in the steamboat, via Catakill, to Delta, and will see personally that its requirements are promptly carried out."

Governor Wright concludes his proclamation in the following terms:

"For the eaks of the character of our state, and of our prope, as well as for the peace and prosperity and harmony of our society of the peace and prosperity and harmony of our society of the peace and prosperity and harmony of our society of the peace and prosperity and harmony of our society of the peace and prosperity and harmony of our society of the peace and prosperity and harmony of our society of the peace and prosperity and harmony of our society of the peace and prosperity and harmony of our society of the peace and prosperity and harmony of our society of the peace and prosperity of the productions. As a nation, we have so ong been reproductions. As a nation, we have so ong been reproductions. As a nation, we have so ong been reproducted to make the product of the termination of the same and the provided of the same and the prosperity of the production of this splendid and talented work has practically succembed to the prevented. The prosperity of the production in foreign mart; sending from abroad, harmony of the production and has carried the results of his daring genius and venture of the layer of the production in foreign habiliments, to be patrons, and the way of the production in foreign habiliments, to be patrons, and the way of the production in foreign habiliments, to be patrons, and the way of the production in foreign habiliments, to be patrons, and the way of the production in foreign habiliments, to be patrons, and the way of the production of the water, evincing in this his enterprise of a foreign mart; sending from abroad, harding the production in foreign habiliments, to be production in foreign hability of his country when the way of the production in foreign hability of his country when the way of the production in foreign hability of his country when the way of the production in forei

DANIEL WARD, CHARLES K. SMITH, CHARLES DOTY, AVERY GREENE, AUGUSTUS PURDY, Secretaries

UNITED STATES TROOPS IN TEXAS. The paragraph under this head, copied into ou per of last evening, from the "Buffalo Comme is, we understand from good authority, incorto a larger force. He knows that not only Louis required Governor Brown to make a draught of men, and have them ready for further orders. Our in-formant did not know what number the governor the course of the executive; indeed, to leave him no other alternative in the discharge of his high duties. The appeals, respectively, to the freemen of the State—to the tenants who disapprove of the discussed and armed force by which these violations of law have been perpetrated—to the proprietors or law have been perpetrated—to the proprietors or AMERICAN GENIUS.

A friend has favored us with the sight of an ex-A friend has favored us with the sight of an exceedingly interesting work. We are delighted with its execution, and deeply interested in the character of the artist. It is a republication of "Catlin's North American Indian Portfolio of Hunting Scenes and Amusements of the Rocky Mountains and Prairies of America," by James Ackerman—a young and enterprising artist of New York. We must allow him to explain his own object in his own striking language, as he does by his "preface," as follows:
"A young American stript yeatures to challenge

THE LAST WHIG FORGERY.

The "decency," "order and law" party, having published and put extensively in circulation, with all the solemnity and countenance of truth, a forget correspondence, by which they hoped to tarnish the fair fame of one of Freedom's most devoted disciples, and one of our country's most patriotic ambravest defenders, we publish the following, while not only nuils the faileshood to the counter, but stamps upon its authors and industrious retailers.

DEAR SIR: I am under grateful obligations to you for your very kind letter, enclosing a correspondence signed Lewis Figg and R. M. Johnson—handing over to Figg the credit of killing Tecumseh, and wishing to know if the letter with my signature is genuine. The whole correspondence, purporting to have taken place between Lewis Figg and myself, is a base fabrication, and, as far as my signature involved, a forgery. I have never known that the sum of the sum of ogy, have, as it were, our recensy attractes acception.

Father Hennepin was no doubt the first white man who visited St. Anthony's falls. In reaching them, however, he passed the mouth of St. Peter's river, a short distance below, without noticing it, or being aware of its existence. This was caused by the situation of an island found in the Mississippi, directly in front of the mouth of St. Peter's, which, in a measure, conceals it from view.

After passing the falls, Father Hennepin continued to ascend the Mississippi to the St. Francis river, but went no higher.

and was at the surrender of Fort William Henry, where (he says) 1,500 English troops were massacred by the Indians, (he hunself narrowly escaping with his life,) prepared for a tour among the Indian tribes inhabiting the shores of the upper lakes and the upper valley of the Mississippi. He left Boston in June of the year stated, and, proceeding by way of Albany and Niagara, reached Mackinac, where he fitted out for the prosecution of his journey to the banks of the Mississippi.

From Mackinac, he went to Green Bay; ascended the Fox river to the country of the Winnebago Indians; from thence, crossing some portages, and passing through Lake Winnebago, he descended the Wisconsin river to the Mississippi river; crossing

TREAT OF THE PRINCENT

E Notice (Fartest in Section 1)

TREAT OF THE PRINCENT

E Notice (Fartest in Section 1)

TREAT HALL

TR

cling for some years through the United States with scientific objects in view, made an extensive examination of the basin of the Upper Mississippi.

He ascended the Missouri river to the Council Bluffs; where, arranging his necessary outfit of men, horses, provisions, &c., (being supplied with good instruments for making necessary observations,) he stretched across a vast truct of country to the extreme head-waters of the St. Peter's, determining, as he went, the heights of places above the ocean, the latitude and longitude of certain points with magnetic variations.

see Annual control words income in the towns of more plant as the control words in control words.

The property of great diagnostic control words in the control words of the con

MILITARY MOVEMENTS arture of the Alabama yester t up the martisl arder and e s to a high pitch. Nothing e

B—Capt. Francis Lee and Lt. Dan C—Capt. Holmes and Lt. Humber F—Lt. Britton and Lt. Gantt. H—Capt. Hawkins and Lt. J. M. 1—Capt. Moore and Lt.

George Taylor, commanding. Surgeon—A. F. Slater, (U. S. A.) Assistant Surgeon—A. F. Sla 1st Lieutenant—William Gii 2d Lieutenant—G. W. Ayre